Gasoline Bomb Kills 6 Persons Sitting In Bar

5 Others Injured By Fire In Quiet Los Angeles Tavern

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A makeshift gas station turned a quiet neighborhood bar into a funeral pyre for at least six persons shortly before midnight.

The coroner said six persons died at the scene on a quiet street in south central Los Angeles. At least five others were injured.

Police said the bomb apparently was thrown through the front door of the Club Mecca by three men who had been ejected earlier when they tried to dance with one of the cocktail bar's regular women customers.

Asst. Fire Chief R. A. Williams said the men sloshed a bucket of gasoline, or some other highly inflammable liquid, onto the floor and then threw a match in after it.

Bartender Escaped

"It went up like a blow torch," said the bartender, Larry Fenton, 24, who escaped uninjured out the back door.

Others weren't that lucky. One male customer was found on a nearly melted corner bar stool, leaning slightly backward against the shattered front wall. Two charred bodies were found in one of the cafe's four booths. Another was on the bar floor.

The only woman victim ran screaming into the street, clothes ablaze. She died soon after near the body of another victim.

Two other customers escaped the flames by running into a restroom and were rescued by firemen.

Inside, the small cafe was a blackened ruin.

Three Fired Gunfire

The three men who threw the bomb escaped in a car amidst a barrage of gunfire from a passer-by. Vernon Waggy, 24, told police he was walking down the street when he saw the men running.

"I pulled out a .32 caliber automatic which I carry for protection and fired at them. I think I hit one," he said.

Miguel Martinez, 29, a student, said he was walking near the cafe when a car pulled up in front.

"Two men jumped out," he said. "One sloshed a big can of some sort of liquid into the bar."

Then, Martinez said, the second man swung his arm like a softball pitcher and the cafe erupted in flames. Police said the man apparently tossed in a match.

Minnie Morales, 28, a typist, said the trouble in the bar began

Storms Batter Much Of Nation

Blizzards, Rain Disrupt Travel

By The Associated Press

A rash of violent early April storms battered broad areas from the Rockies to the Atlantic Coast.

Blizzards hit parts of the north central region. Ground blizzards halted and disrupted travel in east central Colorado and the southeast corner of Wyoming, hit earlier in the week by the worst spring snowstorms in many years.

Heavy snow gave wintry-like scenes to sections of the Northeast.

Summerfield has said that unless more money is assured, he plans to order, effective Saturday, a halt in Saturday mail deliveries in cities and rural areas, and a reduction in deliveries to city business districts, discontinuing of money order sales, and other service cutbacks.

In his telegram, Summerfield said that "with total reluctance" tail postal service to meet the cut tail postal service to meet he imposed" by the subcommittee.

West German Army Prepares To Take Its Place In Allied Line Of Defense

BONN, Germany (AP)—The walls of the new West German armored training school are plastered with the menacing silhouettes of Russian Stalin tanks.

Across the turrets and guns are blazoned the words:

"Don't ever forget this." The tanks are the type the Red army used to crash the Hungarian revolt. Thousands of them are massed in East Germany and other satellite countries.

Disarmed since World War II, West Germans are nearly ready to take their place in the Western defense line.

The first three new German infantry divisions are to be handed over to the North Atlantic Alliance July 1.

NATO naval forces have acquired two squadrons of German minesweepers.

The first 9,733 German draftees were called up this week, boosting West German defense forces to 90,000 men.

The German contribution to Western defense was first proposed in 1950 during the Korean crisis. After years of international squabbling and indecision, the military buildup is finally beginning to show results.

The target, possibly by the end of 1960, is a highly mobile army of 12 divisions, a tactical air force of 1,300 combat jet planes and a small coastal navy.

All will be trained for atomic warfare. The original manpower

14 Volunteer Observers To Receive Awards

Area GOC Home Post To Get Warning Set

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee today slashed 25 per cent from President Eisenhower's requests for new Commerce Department funds.

The committee recommended $653,685,060 in new appropriations for the department and related agencies for the fiscal year starting next July 1. This was $217,827,940 less than Eisenhower requested and $68,950,076 below appropriations for the current year.

In ordering one of its biggest cuts of the year, the committee apparently was mindful of what happened on its last bill, financing the Labor and Welfare departments. It cut $18 million dollars from that measure only to have the House itself slash off an extra 15 millions. Still another $3 million tentatively cut by the House was restored on roll call votes Thursday.

The detective reported Chavigny gave this explanation in a signed, typewritten statement.

The detective reported Chavigny at another point said he had been "closely associated" with Mrs. McReynolds, but refused to elaborate on their relationship, apparently through fear of ridicule or embarrassment.

Many Feel U. S. Private Enterprise Could Do More Than Foreign Aid

(Another in a series of articles on the U.S. foreign aid program.)

By RELMAN MORIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States government is using around four billion dollars a year of our tax money to help other countries.

Much of this goes for arms. It has been called insurance against a Soviet attack on the non-communist world. In Congress, few legislators today question the value of "military aid" to the free peoples.

Other big chunks of money, however, are being spent for "economic assistance" around the world.

Millions of dollars are given or loaned to create jobs, grow more goods, teach new skills, refine old crafts — in short, to lift standards of living. And on this item, some congressmen are sharply even bitterly, critical.

Says bluff Rep. Taber (R-NY), long-time member of the House

Appropriations Committee, "I've never known them (foreign aid officials) to come up here and tell us exactly what these projects have accomplished. It makes me very suspicious of the whole setup."

The U. S. Chamber of Commerce, citing government figures, estimates that economic aid to "under-developed" countries (thus excluding Western Europe) has run close to 1½ billion dollars since 1948. The allocations, by regions, have been:

Middle East, $35 million, three-fourths to Israel and Iran; Far East and Southeast Asia, $30 million, primarily to India; Latin America, $15 million; Africa $5 million.

Looking at these figures and the projects for which the money was spent, analysis of foreign aid raises a question:

"Couldn't American private industry do much of this?" They believe that it would be better — for the American taxpayer and the foreign national — to set up conditions what would encourage American industry to invest abroad, thus carrying economic assistance to the people who need it.

When an American firm builds a plant and begins operating in another country, they say, the economic effects are precisely what Washington tries to achieve with foreign aid.

Equally important, in this view, it demonstrates the workings, and the rewards, of the free enterprise system.

One report, prepared for the Senate, lists numerous examples of the effects of American private industry abroad.

It cites productivity increases, foreign employees who rose from the ranks to top jobs in American firms, and the size of some revenues that accrued to local governments from these capitalist operations.

By contrast, it asserts, the government approach to development suffers from:

1. The waste of scarce resources . . . inherent in the bureaucratic method.

2. "Anti-enterprise bias . . . discouragement of private initiative and the will to save.

3. "Weakening rather than strengthening the average individual's economic ties with America and its private enterprise system."

Other observers raise these two points:

1. When the United States initiates a project, and insists on specifications, it falls under suspicion of being primarily concerned with carrying out political purposes.

2. Is it in the best interest of the United States to provide funds to socialists who believe, not in free enterprise but in state-owned and state-operated industry?

What actions would stimulate American investment abroad?

Robert L. Garner, president of the International Finance Corp., has been dealing with the problem for a long time. He was an officer of the world bank for 11 years. He recommends these steps.

"Foreign service officers should emphasize our belief that private enterprise is identical with our other freedoms.

"We should take a stronger line in protecting our business interests abroad. I'm not talking battleship diplomacy." But the American businessman overseas today does not feel that he has the friendly support of his government.

"Tax incentives should be offered, to compensate a businessman for the risks inherent in foreign investment."

Advocates of the government aid programs assert that business moves too slowly, too cautiously.

The term, "crash program," has come into currency, meaning immediate action.

Pickets Withdrawn From Funeral Home

AIRON, Ohio (AP) — Pickets were withdrawn from the Adams Funeral Home Thursday night after a Summit County Common Pleas judge granted a temporary injunction prohibiting picketing by members of the Operating Engineers Union.

Local 821 of the Operating Engineers has been picketing the Adams Funeral Home since mid-January, seeking union recognition for employees.

Liquor Store Manager Admits Taking $9,000

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A 69-year-old manager of a state liquor store here is under bond today after admitting he stole $9,000 during the last several years to cover "gambling losses." State Auditor James A. Rhodes said Stanley Strader admitted the theft in a signed affidavit Thursday.

Strader, a Liquor Department employee for 23 years, said he juggled the store's books to conceal the shortages. He told Rhodes he began "taking money from the receipts of my store" to cover heavy losses after he started gambling "about 12 years ago."

"You can't let that happen," he said. "But no matter how fast I skip over the pages, some of the information sticks in my mind. You get so you know a little bit about practically everything."

His terrific reading has had no bad effect on his eyes. He still wears the same lenses in his glasses he did 10 years ago.

His hobby?

"I like to read the newspaper going home from work," Haupt said, "but leisurely."

Athletic Scholarship For Presley Debated

ATLANTA (AP) — The question of whether "Elvis Presley deserves an athletic scholarship" still is unresolved.

Members of the Harvard College and Georgia Tech debating teams fought to a tie over that perplexing resolution Thursday night.

Harvard took the negative approach to the athletic ability of the rock 'n' roll performer. Paying Presley would be a waste of money, Harvard said.

The Tech viewpoint seemed to be that Presley would be an asset because of his competitive spirit. Tech said this spirit was exemplified by Presley's remark that "I don't take nothin' from nobody," which was made during a recent tussle with a service station attendant.

JESUS LOVED THEM

By PATRICK and GARRISON

SIMON'S WIFE'S MOTHER

"... And Simon's wife's mother was taken with a great fever, and they besought him for her."

—Luke IV:38

It was the Sabbath, and Jesus, together with some of the disciples, had just left the synagogue.

Mark tells us that "when they were come out of the synagogue, they entered into the house of Simon and Andrew."

There they found that Simon's mother-in-law was seriously ill with some kind of fever.

"And he stood over her, and rebuked the fever; and it left her: and immediately she arose and ministered unto them."

It is noteworthy that when Jesus healed the sick, the cure was instantaneous and complete. There followed no period of convalescence or recuperation from the ravages of the disease.

Simon's mother-in-law was so wonderfully restored to health that she "arose and ministered unto them."

Like most women of Jesus' time, Simon's mother-in-law exercised an important influence in her home. Not only was she in charge of such domestic matters as supervision of the housekeeping, but also of preparation of meals. Even women of rank or wealth were not exempt from this responsibility.

So it is not unusual that, as soon as she was well again, her first thoughts would be of her guests—especially of the important guest who had just cured her infirmity.

Serving the crowds who always followed Jesus was no small task, as was shown by the miracle of the loaves and fishes.

And, at sunset, as soon as the Sabbath was ended, "all they that had any sick with divers diseases brought them unto him; and he laid his hands on every one of them, and healed them."

Being hostess at such a reception must surely have taxed even the tremendous new strength imparted to Simon's mother-in-law by the touch of the great Healer.

Drinking Partners End Up In Jail

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Dennis Booten, 33, Portsmouth, Ohio, is under custody today, along with his drinking pal of Thursday, C. L. McKinley, 43, Pittsburgh.

Police said Booten met McKinley here and started drinking with him. Booten told McKinley he was on his way to Baton Rouge, La., where he had a contracting job. Would McKinley like to come along and get a job, too?

Sure, said McKinley and the two went to a parking lot, where Booten discovered he couldn't find the keys to "his" car. A mechanic was summoned to start the auto with a "jumper switch."

Then, police continued, Gerald J. Sheatz of Carlton, Pa., ran out of a nearby house saying it was his auto. Police came, Sheatz showed his ownership papers, and Booten and McKinley were carted away to jail.

Officers said Booten broke out of the Mingo County, W. Va., jail, where he was serving a sentence for forgery Jan. 17. Booten is also AWOL from an Air Force base in San Angelo, Tex., police said.

Polio Serum For All

We are glad to note the city health department is conducting a free polio clinic for Salem children at the city hall Saturday morning.

Most of the surrounding cities as well as the Columbiana County health district have seen to it that all children up through high school have had every possible chance to escape the possibility of contracting the crippling disease.

Probably at best there will be a few unfortunate boys and girls who will fall victim of the polio virus this summer. Our hope is the Salem health department will not rest in its campaign until all Salem children have had their three polio shots.

The campaign for parents to take their children to their family physician has succeeded pretty well. Now it is time for our health department to finish the job. Then all of us will move into the warm summer months with less apprehension for Salem boys and girls.

A Logical Solution

Despite the fact that Stark and Columbiana county commissioners have a second meeting scheduled April 15 to discuss the joint ownership of the Fairmount Children's Home, it appears that the only logical solution to the problem will be to liquidate the Home.

Stark County Commissioners have been talking strongly of auctioning off the building and grounds. This appears to be the sensible thing to do since Columbiana County utilizes foster homes entirely for taking care of children and Stark County is rapidly adopting a foster homes program. The consensus among welfare workers is that children's homes are obsolete.

Columbiana County claims a 20 per cent interest in Fairmount. This county could get, it is assumed, that percentage of whatever the auction might bring. It could be more, or less, than the $35,000 which Stark County offered this county a week ago for its share in the home.

Bingo

Bingo is bingo whether it's played for profit or for charity, in the opinion of Governor C. William O'Neill.

In fact, the game is illegal as far as the Ohio constitution is concerned so the game can't be legal in one section of the state and not in another.

Bingo has been operating in several places in Columbiana County and if local authorities can't cope with the situation, the governor has made it clear that the state will act.

True Or False

Before the sale of a new book about John Foster Dulles is whooped up by a free-swinging debate over whether or not it is an authorized version, it might be helpful to concede in advance that it does not matter.

The book is the thing, no the quibble over its details. For example, if the book says the U.S. secretary of state mousetrapped President Nasser of Egypt on the Aswan Dam and this is denied by Mr. Dulles, the effect on history will be negligible.

But the effect on the book will be considerable.

In olden days, when the art of stirring up public controversy was in its infancy and still half-baked, trial balloons used to be sent up periodically to see who would shoot them down and how long it would take. A trial balloon was a statement, sometimes purporting to come from an official but unidentified spokesman, on a controversial issue. It stirred up the people.

Today, the same effect is attained by publishing a bookful of stirring material.

As to the question of who got mousetrapped on the Aswan Dam, which appears to be the hottest firecracker in the new book about Secretary Dulles, President Nasser knows best. The United States would not give a dam and the Soviet Union could not give a dam when its bluff was called. Nasser held the bag.

People's Capitalism

A recent remark by the U.S. commissioner of social security in Chicago that individual saving for a rainy day is a hangover from an earlier era and is out of place in today's era of collective security has been raising eyebrows.

If the commissioner meant that social security has become a part substitute for individual responsibility for old-age needs, that is true for persons who are protected by it.

But if he meant to imply that all individual saving is obsolete, he is repudiating the basic premise of capitalism, which is investment for increased production of funds not used up in day-by-day consumption.

Moreover, he is putting a stamp of approval on a condition already bothering U.S. capitalism — the shortage of risk capital for new investment. Instead of going to the people for investment money to make capital improvements and replacements, corporations routinely are obliged to put aside their own earnings for these needs. This is contrary to the principle of a people's capitalism, which is America's ultimate answer to over-centralization of economic, social and political power in an authoritarian state.

Texas Story

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Conservatives Defeated Selves In Senate Race

The story of the Texas election is the story of what happens when conservatives split — a so-called "liberal" wins out.

It wasn't a clear-cut battle between Republicans and Democrats as such in the election for U.S. senator just held in the Lone Star State.

The conservatives gave Rep. Martin Dies, Democrat, more than 214,000 votes.

This combined total of 489,000 conservatives was far in excess of the 340,000 votes cast for Ralph Yarborough, the winner.

Search Bracewell, Democrat, who supported Ike in the 1956 election, got 31,000 votes that would not have gone to Yarborough.

If it be assumed that some of the Republican votes might have been spread among the other 17 Democratic candidates, it still is true that the bulk of the Republican votes cast were from the ranks of conservatives.

Had there been a "run-off" election permitted so that Martin Dies, on the one hand, and Ralph Yarborough on the other could have fought for the Democratic nomination, it seems likely that Yarborough would have lost out.

There was considerable agitation for a "run-off," in which only the two candidates receiving the highest number of votes in the first election among several candidates are pitted against one another in the second contest.

TEXAS VOTERS are accustomed to "run-off" elections to determine the top two who fight it out for the nomination and it is most unfortunate that the Democratic party didn't put through the state legislature the bills introduced which sought to bring about that kind of election first, before challenging the Republican party at the polls in the final contest.

But one reason, of course, was that many of the supporters of Senator-elect Yarborough thought he had a better chance in an election that split up the Democratic votes and isolated the Republican conservatives behind their own candidate.

It was the conservatives who defeated themselves this time.

New York Herald Tribune

wide basis five times and has lost four times.

He ran once for attorney general and three times for governor. He is the standard bearer of the so-called "loyalist" faction in Texas politics which is made up largely of the Truman-Stevenson wing of the party.

The Democrats in the North are, of course, crowing over "the great victory of the Democrats over the Republicans" in Texas.

Also, the Republicans in the North are arguing that this election was an encouraging step toward a two-party line-up in the South.

A FEW MORE episodes of this kind and the Republican party will have succeeded in sending to the Senate and the House many exponents of radical philosophy and, in the end, the coalition in Congress of northern Republicans of the conservative school and conservative Democrats from the South will be broken down, if indeed it isn't largely wiped out.

Partisans naturally want to see their respective parties built up but, in the struggle over conflicting ideologies nowadays, it is far more important to the future economic welfare of the country for the conservatives to avoid schemes that break down the conservative representation in Congress from the South.

Presidential elections can be fought on a two-party basis in the South but, until there is a clearer definition between the Republican and Democratic parties on state issues, it is sheer folly for the national Republican organization to stimulate the selection of Republican nominees for the Senate and the House in the deep South.

THERE ARE A FEW districts in the South where the preponderance of conservatives is such that putting up a Republican nominee for the House of Representatives becomes a logical means of defeating a Democrat from the radical side.

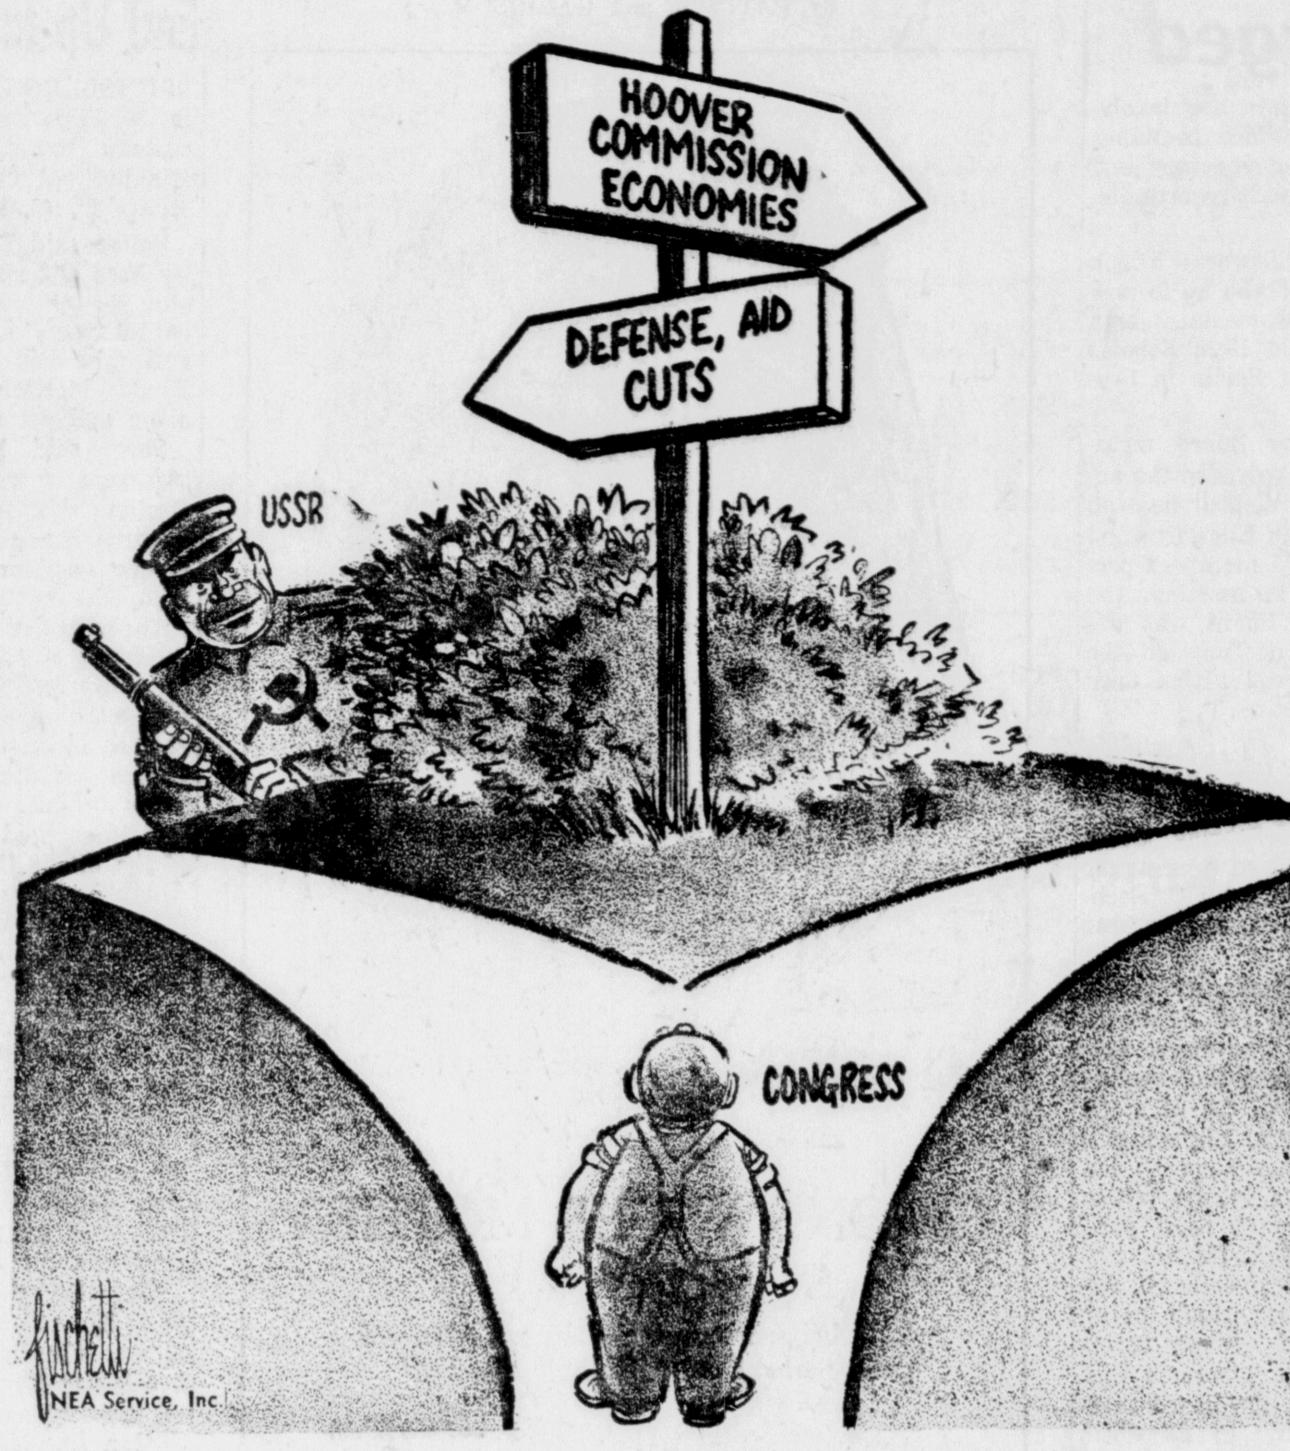

This could also happen in some Senate races in the South but, unless there is a "run-off" primary to eliminate the many candidates who usually enter these contests, the risks to the conservatives of such an election as Texas had this week are obvious.

It was the conservatives who defeated themselves this time.

Any Questions?

Battles On The Home Front

By JAY G. HAYDEN

An irony of the times is that, while they worry over "nationalism" inflaming the Middle and Far East, the governments of England, France and the United States are all having home-front battles with their own nationalists.

British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, French Premier Guy Mollet and President Eisenhower are being similarly harassed by politicians of the conservative right saying in effect: "Enough of this internationalist do-gooding; let's think about ourselves."

In Britain, charges from his own Tory ranks that Mr. Macmillan has given in to the Cypriot rebels and is about to "appease" Egypt's Gamal Nasser could topple the Conservative government.

In France, rioting by extremists who would "solve" the Algerian question by shooting more Arabs has Mr. Mollet walking another tight rope.

IN THE SAME pattern, Mr. Eisenhower's chief problem today is growing congressional inclination to meet nationwide economy demands by meat-axing foreign-aid appropriations.

In each capital the head of government finds himself in the odd position of looking to his regular political opposition for support against the attacks of his own right-wing "friends."

Finally, since the Civil Service Commission has had to move to larger quarters because of the proliferation of the bureaucracy, the senator would establish a national art gallery in the old building.

WE ALREADY HAVE A NATIONAL ART GALLERY in Washington. But since it was contributed by Andrew Mellon, the senator probably believes that it smells too much of capitalism and harbors too much bourgeois art.

Now there are, he says, ten Music, poetry, drama, dance, the graphic arts, motion pictures, radio, television, literature, and the craft arts. I am glad he has made a distinction between television and the drama.

But the senator would have us lead the world artistically. Once there was a notion that a nation developed its culture for its own sake and out of its own special imagination and circumstances.

Now the joy of a person who loved culture in the discovery of a wide variety when he traveled abroad.

Indeed, over our own vast nation variety prevailed and enriched our minds as we contemplated it.

Now the senator. There must be uniformity. He expresses his desire for the proliferation of our notions of art over the world: "Public Law 868 was designed to help expand our counter-offensive following evidence from a number of experts that the American image abroad has been suffering from the lack of attention to cultural presentations."

THIS RHETORICAL scramble may have bad repercussions abroad. For a literate Englishman might not know from the context whom we are intending to be counter-offensive against.

But I seem to have forgotten what the senator wants Congress to enact. He has three bills.

First, he wants a Federal Advisory Commission on the Arts. This would not immediately start handing out money to would-be artists — who would no doubt be of American "nationalism," which would end major aid spending and either quit the United Nations or minimize its importance. Mr. Eisenhower also must get his "help" from the "enemy."

As his own top congressional leader, Sen. William F. Knowland, is the loudest voice for the 1956-style American-firsters, so must the President lean on the most liberal of northern Democrats to support his internationalism.

LIKE SALISBURG in England, the right-wing critics of Mr. Mollet think he is an "apeacher" of Arabs who would surrender too much in Algeria in order to protect France's good repute in the halls of the United Nations.

Specifically, the Saturday rioters want French action against Moroccan kidnappers of two French officers and an all-out army campaign in Algeria to shoot enough Arabs to convince the survivors of the benefits of a quiet life under continuing French rule.

Offsetting this branch of French opinion, however, are the followers of former Premier Pierre Mendes-France, who would go farther than Premier Mollet has in seeking friendly pacification of the Algerian rebels and the Communists who follow the straight Misce line that Paris should abandon Algeria, all its huge investments there, and the million Frenchmen who call the African province home.

Now in London, for example, the Macmillan government probably would have been destroyed in the aftermath of last Friday's cabinet resignation of the Marquess of Salisbury were it not for the fact that Macmillan's laborite opposition cannot join with dissident Tories on this issue.

For months Labor's leaders have been pounding the Conservative party for failing to end the Cypress fighting and for having damaged Anglo-American relations by their invasion excursion against Nasser.

Now the same Laborites are in no position to support Salisbury, regarded by many as the "Mr. Tory" of the Conservative party, in his walkout over Macmillan's release of Archbishop Markarios from exile detention and in Salisbury's further displeasure over claims that Nasser is to be appeased in order to please the United States.

Similarly, in Paris, Mollet has staggered through another Chamber of Deputies crisis because his opponents on the left cannot support the extreme nationalists who turned the Champs Elysees into Saturday battleground.

As his own top congressional leader, Sen. William F. Knowland, is the loudest voice for the 1956-style American-firsters, so must the President lean on the most liberal of northern Democrats to support his internationalism.

She became the belle of the ball, the only drawback being a clause which made her quit at the stroke of 12, give or take a few minutes for station identification and a word from the sponsor.

The big clock struck 12, but through some oversight no clock or watch manufacturer was mentioned.

In her flight home Cindy lost one slipper but not much was made of it because the shoe manufacturer was backing another TV show.

The prince found the slipper. From there on it was strictly Dragnet with no need for Joe Friday or the FBI. And so they were married at 9:30 p.m. (which was well below par for any hour and a half program) and left on a honeymoon just before "The $64,000 Challenge" crashed through, almost telescoping them.

They lived happily ever after largely because the white mice were all Equity members and nobody had to contact Dave Beck about getting the transportation coach.

P. S. — This is all in good fun. The Rodgers and Hammerstein show was pretty wonderful, Julie Andrews was out of this world and after all, somebody has to put up the dough.

ALAN JAY LERNER, who wrote "My Fair Lady" is a son of the founder of the Lerner chain stores... Pop had his pile catering to fair ladies and once thought Alan was wasting his time fooling around with show business and would never make any money!!!

There is talk of an "Oscar" for Dave Beck for the loudest performance of the year.

Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

Commercials, Ugh!

(An impression of a recent TV show spectator who thinks commercials can go too far.)

Once upon a time there was a beautiful dish whose life was made miserable by mean stepsisters and station breaks. Her stepsister made her do all the dirty work.

Into her life came a wonderful fairy godmother who could change a pumpkin into a royal coach but couldn't do a thing about "commercial" interruptions.

IT WAS EASY for the godmother to make white mice disappear but not ad writers.

She could wave a magic wand and — presto! — six lizards became coachmen. But she could wave it all night without making the line "Yes, you will find this the most exciting cosmetic in years" disappear.

Cinderella lived in the country. Her life was drab. But she could come through in technicolor.

THERE LIVED in this magical kingdom a king who had made a fortune in show business. He had played in "Life With Father" and didn't see why he shouldn't play "Life With Hans Christian Andersen."

Three More Counties Ban Bingo Games

By The Associated Press

Three more counties Thursday banned bingo in compliance with an apparent crackdown by Gov. C. William O'Neill.

Huron, Richland and Sandusky were the latest counties to line up publicly behind the governor, who was aroused by a series of articles on bingo games published by the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Portage and Medina counties had responded earlier to statements by the governor that Ohio court decisions have ruled bingo profited for any purpose to be illegal.

In Columbiana County, one big bingo establishment did not open Wednesday night and others were expected to close.

Constable Ralph C. Smith stopped a bingo game that was going in Eaton Twp., Lorain County. He said he was complying with O'Neill's announced policy.

Budget Cuts

money bill sent to the House this year by the committee and shoved well over the billion dollar mark the aggregate cuts in appropriations requested by the President.

Actually, the savings claimed by the committee in the Commerce Department measure are larger than the direct cut in new funds, for the committee canceled $65,251,000 of balances in the War Shipping Administration's working fund which otherwise could have been spent. The committee ordered the balances turned back into the Treasury.

The biggest single slice in funds was 91½ million dollars from the 94½ millions requested by the Maritime Administration for ship construction. Another 20 millions was cut from the amount asked for ship operating subsidies.

Eisenhower's money requests contemplated an increase of 7,126 permanent positions for the Commerce Department and 373 new jobs in the smaller and related agencies in the bill. The committee approved 4,038.

Fifth Bill Okayed

The Labor-Welfare bill, passed Thursday by voice vote and sent to the Senate, was the fifth annual appropriation bill cleared this year by the House. None has passed the Senate.

Its total of $2,846,331,581 was $134,446,000 less than Eisenhower had requested, but the reduction fell short by 53 million dollars of cuts that had been made tentatively during seven days of debate.

There were 14 roll-call votes—tied a record set in 1951—on amendments that had been tacked to the bill previously by standing vote.

Biggest setback for the budget-cutters was restoration by a 231-185 roll-call vote of 50 million dollars which had been knocked out by standing vote. The money was earmarked for aid to municipalities for construction of waste disposal plants.

As it headed for the Senate, the bill allotted $2,483,331,581 to the Welfare Department, a cut of $88,576,000, and $349,060,200 to the Labor Department, a reduction of $35,617,800.

The rest of the money was earmarked for several small agencies.

the council should act on first.

The consensus was that the council should first raise the enthusiasm of local residents and make them want "to sell" their area to prospective industries.

The council also stressed that residents should strive to maintain a "healthy civic climate" to encourage expansion of already existing industries.

It was decided to press for repairs to Salem area roads.

Other matters discussed included the building of a packing and crating plant, polling industry for expansion plans, mutual farm-city help, and fire protection.

Blepp-Coombs, Royal Oaks Win

Joe's All Stars Whip New Brighton Big 5

Salem Tool Sr. upended Collins Dairy 65-42, Blepp-Coombs smothered Thomas Service 81-54, Royal Oaks clobbered Frank's Service of Canton 68-58, Joe's All Stars eliminated New Brighton's Big Five 96-51, and Bunn's Shoes were triumphant over Struthers 75-55, in Little City Tournament games played at the Memorial Building last night.

Salem Tool outscored their opponents in every quarter in waltzing into the semifinals to be staged this evening. Tool led 16-8 at the close of the first quarter, and by halftime they had built up a 29-19 lead.

Collins Dairy never seemed to get started as they could only score nine markers in the third frame, while Salem was rolling up 15 points, and at the end of three periods the score was Tool 44, Collins 28. Salem tallied 21 points to the opponents 15 in the last stanza.

Matt Klein paced the winners with 12 points, and Feight tallied 24 for the losers.

THOMAS SERVICE took an initial 16-9 first period lead, but Blepp's tallied 24 points and held the Service five to nine markers in the second stanza, and at recess time Blepp's led 33-25.

In the third quarter Blepp's outscored Thomas 21-14 and at the close of the period Blepp's led 54-39. In the final frame Blepp's outscored the Service five 27 to 18.

Chadwick took scoring honors for the winners as he scored 22 points and Schoeni paced the losers with 16 markers.

FRANK'S SERVICE held a three point margin 13-10 at the end of the first quarter, and managed to hold the Service five to nine markers in the second stanza, and at recess time Blepp's led 40-38.

Royal Oaks rallied in the third quarter as they made 16 markers to Frank's 12 to take the lead 40-38. In the final frame the Oak's team hit for 28 points, and Frank's tallied 20 points.

Dellick and Kukupra scored 24 and 22 markers respectively, and Cutick made 18 points for the losers.

JOE'S ALL STARS overpowered the Big Five from New Brighton as they raced to an 18-12 first stanza lead, and were never headed thereafter. At recess time the All Stars held a commanding 46-25 margin.

In the third period Joe's kept up a relentless attack as they poured through the nets 24 points and held the Big Five to 12, and at the end of three quarters Joe's led 70-37. The All Stars scored 26 points to New Brighton's 14 in the final frame.

Joe's Becker tallied 21 and two team mates Stempel and Greenfell tallied 18 points each. Cutick made 18 points for the losers.

In the last tilt of the evening, Bunn's Shoes led all the way as they rushed to a 20-8 first stanza lead, and by recess time they had built up a commanding 41-19 lead. In the third period they continued their blistering pace and held a 59-32 margin. Struthers outscored Bunn's 23 to 16 in the last frame.

Robison and Johnston paced the winners with 17 and 16 points respectively, and Hawthorne tallied 15 markers for the losers.

Games on tap tonight: Frank's Pennzoil vs Canton Collegians, 6:15; Royal Oaks vs Bunn's Shoes, 7:15; Carl Lumber vs Blepp-Coombs, 8:15; and Salem Tool Sr. vs Joe's All Stars at 9:15.

STATE DOUBLES CHAMPS—Mrs. Min Spear, at left, and Mrs. Mildred Kline of Salem are the new Ohio women's doubles bowling champions. The two won the recently-concluded Ohio State Women's Bowling tournament at Alliance with a total score of 1,355 pins, including a handicap of 163. Mrs. Kline rolled a 621 actual and Mrs. Spear a 570. About 1,200 competed in the doubles tournament. The two women bowl for the Purity Dairy team in the Salem Commercial League. Purity, understandably, is in first place in the league.

Gene Fullmer, Robinson Sign To Fight May 1

CHICAGO (AP) — Gene Fullmer never had it so good.

The bull-necked middleweight boxing champion is looking ahead to his biggest payday. He stands to collect about $80,000 in his 30-30 percentage cut with Sugar Ray Robinson of the gate and TV proceeds for defense of his crown May 1 at Chicago Stadium.

When Fullmer defeated Robinson for the title last Jan. 2, in New York, he got only $20,915 while Sugar Ray pocketed $138,190.

Fullmer, confident he can beat Robinson again, will train in the ultra-plush surroundings of Tam O'Shanter Country Club. He opens camp there Monday.

Robinson, who will continue his training at Greenwood Lake, N.Y., was in his usual dazzling form at Thursday's formal contract signing for the rematch.

He was asked if he planned to change his style when he faced Fullmer this time.

"I won't know until I get into the ring and see what Fullmer's going to do," he replied.

"Well, in your other fight did Fullmer do anything surprising that you were not expecting?" he was asked.

Robinson smiled: "He sure did — he won the fight."

The Buckeye Fancy Feather Club held a special meeting Sunday at Canfield to make plans for the forthcoming show to be held June 8 and 9 at the Canfield fairgrounds.

Over 1,000 Bantams and large standard fowls will be exhibited by members from several states and Canada.

Judging will be done by five licensed judges of the American Poultry Association.

The public is invited and no admission will be charged.

The next club meeting will be April 14 at the Canfield fairground office building.

Post Homers In 9th, Redlegs Trip Nats

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—Wally Post, husky Cincinnati Redleg outfielder, "guessed" right Thursday on an important pitch. His two-run, ninth-inning homer allowed the Redlegs to pull into tie with the Washington Senators in a game at Ft. Gordon, Ga., and the Cincinnatians won it, 5-4, in the 10th on Don Hoak's run-scoring single.

Two runs in the seventh won for the Cardinals, making the most of Pete Woyet's wildness while Hoyt Wilhelm was settling a Tiger rally. Don Hoak's single won for the Redlegs, held hitless for six innings by Bob Chakales, Wally

These permits would be valid only for the duration of a racing meet. None would be issued to county fairgrounds where a race meeting sponsored by an agricultural society was in progress, but the same tracks would be eligible if they were leased to private operators.

Committee Chairman Ray E. Hildebrand (R-Lucas), emphasized the bill would not permit the issuance of special permits in local option areas.

Roberts Shines For Philadelphia

Yankees Win 1-0 On Only 2 Hits

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Robin Roberts, trim, fit and doing things with a curve, looks ready to get back into that old 20-victory rut again. No more pidgin' 19-victory seasons for Robin.

The big, control-conscious righthander, a basic reason for the Philadelphia Phillies being in or near the National League's first division for seven seasons, appears at ease again on the mound.

The 30-year-old veteran, troubled by a back ailment last year, gave the New York Yankees a look at the best pitching they've seen this spring Thursday. It wasn't until after Robin left for a pinch-hitter that the world champions managed to gain a 1-0 victory.

For eight innings, Roberts permitted but one hit—a bunt single by Hank Bauer that opened the fourth inning. The first nine Yanks went down in order. Robin retired 18 in a row with the ball never leaving the infield. He faced only 26 batters, struck out three, walked one.

Post's two-run homer gave Cincy a tie in the ninth.

Bob Lemon and Don Mossi were battered for 13 hits by the Giants, with Vic Wertz homering twice for the Indians. Eight singles in the first two frames gave the Pirates all their runs off Virgil Trucks. The Orioles banged 22 hits in their romp past the Cubs.

DETROIT, (AP) — It will be the slam-bang style of Chuck Spieser against the quick-fisted counter punches of Tony Anthony when the two light heavyweights battle tonight for the right to meet champion Archie Moore.

Spieser is a heavy favorite in the scheduled 12-round which will be televised nationally (NBC-TV, 10 p.m. EST) from Detroit's Olympia Stadium. It's the two-time Olympic boxer's first "big" fight in his home town, and a victory would mean an opportunity to take on Moore in a June 7 battle in the same stadium.

But Anthony, who has 22 knockouts to his credit in his 29-4 record, is confident almost to the point of being cocky.

"Where do they get that business of 13-5 odds?" he asked the day before the bout. "Who did Spieser ever beat, anyway?"

Anthony, the quicker of the two and a capable puncher with either hand, feels he can elude the rock-hard body punches with which Spieser has been so successful.

The Detroit fighter generally moves in just one direction — forward — and is most effective at close range.

Spieser, 27, and Anthony's team-mate for the 1952 Olympic boxing team, is regarded as the No. 1 contender for Moore's crown. On the strength of six straight victories, Anthony is third-ranked.</p

Burke's 71 Leads Masters Tourney

By WILL GRIMSLEY

AUGUSTA, Ga., (AP) — Jackie Burke Jr. is a steel-eyed Texan who laughs at the jinx that Masters champions never repeat.

"I don't let that stuff bother me," the boyish-looking 34-year-old Houston professional said after shooting the only sub-par round—a 71—of the 101 stars who took a crack at the Augusta National course Thursday.

The score was the highest ever to lead the Masters on opening day.

Today Burke tries to defend his slender lead—one stroke over five players, two strokes over eight others and only three ahead of another 13—but it's sure these challengers never faced a cooler calculator.

"I hear the Masters champion never repeats," Jackie said. "Certainly, I know that others were favored, such as Ben Hogan and Cary Middlecoff. They should be, on their records."

"But never once did I think about these things. Not once did I feel any pressure of being a champion trying to win again. I found out long ago that there's enough to think about trying to whip a golf course."

"So there's just one thing in my mind. I go out there to beat the course, to play the best possible golf I can. Then if that isn't good enough, it's just too bad."

If Jackie were the type to get concerned, Middlecoff, the National Open champion, and Hogan, one of the great golfers of our era, wouldn't be on his "worry" list.

Middlecoff, missing six putts of under three feet, soared to a 79.

Hogan is 40 and Murff just turned 35.

The Milwaukee righthander was given the starting assignment by manager Fred Haney in response to a request by Dallas fans who remembered Murff as a star of their home town team. The Braves purchased Murff from Dallas for a reported $40,000 in 1955.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., (AP) — The Chicago White Sox nearly let their star second baseman, Nellie Fox, go to Cleveland several years ago, coach Tony Cuccinello disclosed today.

Cuccinello, who came to the Sox with manager Al Lopez from the Indians, had this to say:

"Several years ago Frank Lane (then general manager of the White Sox) offered Fox in an even swap for second baseman Bobby Avila. It was June 15, the last day for trading. An hour before the midnight deadline the Indians called it off because Avila hit a few more home runs than Nellie."

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., (AP) — The Chicago Cubs, who haven't much to rave about, are still talking about the recent two-hit job of their rookie Dick Drott against the New York Giants.

"Drott has a very deceptive delivery," said manager Bob Scheffing who had the 20-year-old righthander at Los Angeles last year. "He doesn't look like he's throwing very hard, but he's got enough speed to stop any hitter. Against the Giants he was giving Willie Mays fits."

Drott delivers with a semi-wind-up which could be mistaken for a no-windup delivery. He throws a sharp breaking curve and a change of pace which has been perfected this spring by pitching coach Freddie Fitzsimmons.

LAKELAND, Fla., (AP) — Minor injuries continue to harass the Detroit Tigers.

Outfielder Charley Maxwell was hit on the arm in batting practice Thursday. He'll be out of action a few days.

Third baseman Jim Finigan was hit by a batted ball in Thursday's game with the St. Louis Cardinals and had to be yanked. His replacement — Reno Bertola — later was hit on the arm by a pitched ball. It wasn't serious, however.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., (AP) — If Sad Sam Jones, the ex-Chicago Cub, can continue this season as he has started in spring training, he'll make the St. Louis Cardinals a competent pitcher.

The 6-foot-4 hurler with the toothpick trademark held his grapefruit league earned run average to 3.26 Thursday by giving the Detroit Tigers six hits and three runs in seven innings in a 5-4 Red Bird victory.

Hoyt Wilhelm sweated through the eighth and ninth to preserve Jones' victory.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

Now labor's high command is been spending its millions of dollars.

So pity the poor commentator and seething senator who want to keep public hysteria down but run into the "Gent With The Unfinished Penhouse."

This elusive fellow is William Maloney, lifetime president of the International Operating Engineers Union, atop whose palace in Washington a terrace apartment is being built fit for a king, as befits Brother Maloney.

Maloney's regality was ruffled the other day when, in a base breach of less majesty, four of his vice-presidents insensitively decided to ask their chief of estate how the international union has ...the size and the assets of each such local..."

All this hurt Maloney's feelings, which may be irked even more by those noisy senators who have been spending so much time poking into the Operating Engineers.

It seems that one of Ma-loney's aides has just been indicated by the government.

A Federal Grand Jury has been investigating alleged corruption during the construction of no less than the U.S. Army Signal Corps Depot at Tobyhanna near Scranton, Pa.

Indicted nine men, one of whom was Harry W. Lavery. It was alleged that he received $1,000 from a contractor working on this defense project.

IT DEVELOPS that this same Lavery was appointed by Brother Maloney in November 1952, as assistant supervisor of the important Local 542, Philadelphia.

Brother Lavery doubles as chairman of the employee trustees of the local welfare fund—which just happens to have 1.7 million dollars in the kitty.

And from the outpost scouts comes word that Lavery has not been removed from these jobs despite the Federal indictments. It is Maloney who moves and and expenditures in this International Union of Operating Engineers...

It is Maloney who over-ruled a majority of his own high command, six vice-presidents in a bloc, when they demanded that the first vice-president, William M. Welsh, retire because he has reached the age of 80.

These vice-presidents even offered to pay Welsh the equivalent of his current salary and expenses if he would quit. They said they'd vote him the difference between his pension and his salary as vice-president.

Since his pension is non-taxable, this meant Welsh would have really been in the chips. But he refused, since the union's constitution said he need only "seek" retirement at 80.

The vice-presidents said this was mandatory. Maloney and the union lawyer said the word was merely "advisory."

NOW IT SO HAPPENS that the union's national attorney is J. Albert Woll. He also is attorney for the national AFL-CIO. He is a decent fellow who serves his clients well.

When he was U.S. attorney in Chicago and the law said that he had to prosecute Jimmy Petrillo under the Lea Act, he did.

Then he quit the government and went into labor law. That is his privilege.

All men's clients are their privilege. But as national lawyer for the AFL-CIO high command he advised on the move against Dave Beck.

And there are those who say there isn't too much difference between the Operating Engineers and the Teamsters high echelons. Like I said, labor now is leading with its unblacked eye. Why?

Teacher, 4 Pupils Burned In School

CLEVELAND (AP)—A teacher and four pupils suffered burns at Memorial Junior High School in South Euclid Thursday when fire broke out while a pupil was heating metal with a blowtorch. The other 1,462 pupils were evacuated. The fire was put out with a fire extinguisher, police said.

The teacher, Miss Anita Block, Cleveland Heights, suffered first and second degree burns of the face, arms and neck and was reported in fair condition at Huron Road Hospital.

Released from the hospital after treatment for burns were: Malcolm Tarlofsky, 15, South Euclid; Bonnie Cuthill, 14, South Euclid; Maureen Orlin, 15, Lyndhurst, and William Morton, Jr., 15, Lyndhurst. Gail Carleton, 14, South Euclid, and Peggy Sanker, Lyndhurst, were treated for shock and released.

Worker Compensation Fee To City Reduced

The City of Salem will realize a saving of $120 as a result of the reduction of premium rates to be paid by public employers to the Ohio Workmen's Compensation Fund. This city's reduction will be from $2.65 to $2.61 per $100 payroll, according to Chalmers A. Wylie, administrator of the Bureau of Workmen's Compensation.

Ohio Hospital Assn. Work To Be Expanded

CLEVELAND (AP)—A pledge to expand the work of the Ohio Hospital Assn. was made Thursday by Wayne B. Foster, new president of the association. Foster, administrator of Holzer Hospital and Clinic at Gallipolis, assumed his duties as the association closed its biggest annual convention. More than 3,000 were registered for the five-day meeting.

Couple Told To Get More Room, Job To Recover Baby

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI)—Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Paul will have to find an apartment bigger than two rooms for their family of seven if they want their 8-month-old baby son back. And Paul, an unemployed truck driver, will have to find himself a job.

Until those two conditions are met, says Mrs. Lucille Burke, intake supervisor at Juvenile Center here, Ronald Paul, the infant, will remain with juvenile authorities.

The Pauls placed the infant in Children's Hospital March 4 to be treated for malnutrition. When the boy was ready for discharge earlier this week, the Pauls could not be found. Friends and relatives said the Pauls hadn't been seen in four weeks.

The Pauls went to Juvenile Center Thursday after reading newspaper accounts of the incident. They told authorities they had separated shortly after placing Ronald Paul in the hospital, and that they moved back together Monday in a two-room apartment.

The four other children are Wayne, 6; Kathryn, 5; Jerry Lee, 2; and Deborah Jean, 21 months.

TYPE DESIGNER DIES

NEWPORT BEACH, Calif. (UPI)—Gilbert P. Farrar, 70, known in newspaper circles as "Mr. Type" for his work in redesigning more than 60 daily papers, died Thursday at Hoag Hospital. He was admitted March 16 after suffering a heart attack.

Columbian Knights Plan Easter Sunrise Service

Berry Growers to Formulate Year's Marketing Program

COLUMBIANA — Salem Commandery, Knights Templar, will have its annual sunrise service in Columbian Methodist Church at 6:30 Easter Sunday.

The commandery usually attends the church of its commander for this observance, and the present commander is Rev. A. R. Brown, 14 S. Cross St., Columbiana.

The sermon theme will be "While It Was Yet Dark."

Special music will be a solo, "Open the Gates of the Temple," by Mrs. Mary Hinerman, and a marimba solo, "When I Survey the Wondrous Cross," by Mrs. Kay Lodge. The public is invited to the service.

Columbian and Mahoning county berry growers will meet in Columbian city hall at 8 p.m. Monday to plan an advertising and marketing program for this year, a tour to the Eastern shore and a summer twilight meeting. All growers will be welcome.

Columbian Hobby Club met on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Dick Fitzpatrick, 131 S. Main St., with eight present. Following a 1:30 dessert luncheon, afternoon projects were Swedish weaving, and making silver jewelry. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Clyde Harrold, 136 N. Elm St., Wednesday afternoon, May 1.

Officers elected Tuesday evening by the Ladies Auxiliary of Clipper Aerie Fraternal Order of Eagles are:

Carolyn Stokes, president; Olive Fry, vice president; Viola Nelson, chaplain; Evelyn Porter, secretary; Irene Brooks, treasurer; Alice Jones, conductor; Pearl Farmer, past president; Ann Martin, outer guard; Rada Echard, inside guard; Jennie L. Jones, news reporter; Alice Naughton, Evelyn Dodson, Leila Schwab, trustees.

PLANS WERE completed at the April meeting of the Booster Club in the High School building Wednesday evening for the annual athletic banquet at Joshua Dixon
